Ms. Suzanne Sebring,

As Palomar College looks to partner with members who are formerly incarcerated as they transition into a new chapter of their life, we at Palomar College Police Department share their desire for self-improvement. Those who have been punished by the criminal justice system deserve a second chance and law enforcement has a role in helping them re-establish themselves in society; with a fresh start. As Chief of Police for Palomar College Police Department, I support this initiative and look to be a contributor in efforts to educate members of this community.

Respectfully Submitted,
