SAN MARCOS — Palomar College will observe National Career Guidance Week Nov. 11 to 17 by offering counseling to any North County residents interested in changing jobs or starting on a career.

Walter Brown, dean of vocational education, and John Dise, vocational counselor, will be available to speak with interested citizens during that week. Appointments may be made by telephone to the counseling department.

Career guidance and job opportunities have become a main attraction in the Palomar College Library.

A career information center with material from a wide variety of occupational areas is displayed along the east wall of the library. It includes specific employment offers which are available through John Dise, Vocational Counselor in the college counseling office.

A Career Opportunity Index is one of the more comprehensive items in this section. It is a booklet containing profiles of California firms, with a description of the goods or services each produces, the requirements and opportunities for employment, and employee benefits.

Another aspect of the new library service is the Career Guidance Library series. One hundred and eight occupations are included in this series of books that contain sample tests and questions and answers for entry preparation into positions ranging from manual trades to professions.

Do's and Don'ts of how to act at a job interview with a prospective employer was taped here recently.

J. Royce Cooper, manager, HRD Employment Service office in Escondido, was here to do the interviews for the Audio-Visual tapes that will be kept in the Learning Resources section of the library for interested students.

The main items Cooper stressed were the proper dress when applying for a job, neatness, cleanliness, correct dress for men and women, knowledge of the position you are applying for and experience in the field.

Prospective applicants should also study the company they intend to work for; the going pay scale, and the salary they intend to ask for.

John Dise of the Counseling Office coordinated the Audio-Visual taping session. The students who took part in the interview were Ron Page, Ramelle Flory, Mike Haas and Anne O'Rourke.
