Career Center produces video

According to the latest Gallup Poll, 51 percent of the American workforce members are dissatisfied with their jobs. On a local level, the Palomar College Career Center in San Marcos is trying to do something about the problem. The center, which offers free assistance to persons interested in discovering more meaningful careers, has recently produced a video featuring former and current Palomar students and their successful career planning.

Palomar’s cable channel is showing the program, which gives first-hand accounts of how the free services offered at the Palomar College Career Center have helped people succeed in their career search.

“The video program, called ‘Success,’ shows how five local people with different goals found practical career guidance and instruction at the Palomar Career Center,” said John Disse, director of the center.

“Success” is airing on Dimensión Channel 28 and Daniels Channel 35 on Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a.m.

“We want the people in San Diego County to be aware of the many free-of-charge services and the type of motivational support the Palomar College Career Center has to offer,” Disse said. “We hope the ‘Success’ video program will reach out to the people who need us most, and we encourage them to call our center at 744-1150 or 727-7529, extension 2194.”

The Palomar College Career Center is located in the Student Services Center on Palomar’s main campus at 1140 W. Mission Road in San Marcos. The center’s resources are open to everyone and are designed for people who are entering their first career and for those who want to change careers.
