Fashion Analysis

This class is unique that it meets the needs of an individual who is looking for self-improvement and also the fashion student that aspires to become a fashion professional.

We make out clothing choices to produce a desired effect. Not merely what is in fashion but rather to have clothing communicate who we are. Clothing fits us each individually not just a physical size but also an emotionally and psychologically and socially.

The class is broken down into 3 basic categories. Part 1 looks at the influences of clothing selection, the psychological reasons for wearing the clothing we do.

Part 2 is the design element of the clothing – We’ll learn about body types, color, and how we can use design principals to visually re-shape the body.

Part 3 focuses on the construction, care and putting it all together
