

Faculty Mentor Case Studies

Case Study #1: Student in Distress

A 19 year-old student tells you that he does not have a good relationship with his parents and says that he feels depressed. He's not able to focus on his studies.

Case Study #2: Financial Aid

A new student is struggling to buy her books and pay her enrollment fees. You recommend that she applies for financial aid, and she informs you that she is not able to do so.

Case Study #3: Struggling with Math

A student tells you that he is failing Math 50 (Elementary Algebra). This is his second time taking the course. He also informs you that he took Math 15 (Pre-Algebra) three times as well and passed the third time with a "C" grade.